SERVSAFE™

The National Restaurant Association created the SERVSAFE™ program to provide information and procedures necessary to certify food handlers and insure the safety and quality of food service operations.

The SERVSAFE™ program is nationally recognized by both the restaurant industry and by the public health industry. It is designed to meet food safety certification requirements for local and national health departments. Upon successfully passing an 80-question exam with a score of 75% or higher, participants receive a SERVSAFE™ certificate.

Effective October 1, 2001, the Massachusetts Food Establishment Regulation 105CMR 590.003(A)(2) requires food establishments to have one person-in-charge who is a certified food protection manager.
The SERVSAFE™ certification meets the Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut code requirements for this type of training.
